

An important message from iamsold

Property Auctions re: COVID-19

As you will be aware, the Government has implemented measures to protect the public and delay the spread of COVID-19, and it is to be expected that these measures are likely to have an impact on the day to day lives of individuals and businesses whilst they are in place. Unfortunately, property transactions are no exception.

iamsold is operating business as usual at this time and we are monitoring the situation closely to ensure our colleagues are protected.

Whilst most businesses are continuing to operate at this time, other property service providers such as our partner auctioneers, solicitors, removal companies and mortgage lenders may be operating with significantly reduced staff levels.

As such, we are advising our sellers and buyers to anticipate that there may be delays to the normal transaction time frames as a result of COVID-19.

Be assured that our clients will continue to be serviced throughout these uncertain times.

Kind Regards

The Auction Team
